5G is the next generation of cell phone infrastructure, yet it is categorically different than its predecessors (4G/LTE etc.). It is not a simple upgrade. It is a major increase – and change – in the type of wireless radiation to which we will all be exposed, without consent.

While Buddy Hield and the Sacramento Kings are preparing for next Wednesday's season opener, the two sides are also working to beat next Monday's extension deadline. Per Yahoo Sport's Chris Haynes, the Sacramento Kings have an offer on the table for their shooting star, but Haynes reports the two sides are currently about $20 million apart in their asking price.

The Kings have an offer for Hield on the table for four years and $90 million, league sources told Yahoo Sports. Hield and his agent, Brandon Rosenthal, are seeking a number closer to $110 million, sources said.

With the 2020 free-agent class expected to be weak in terms of star power, sources said Hield is prepared to bet on himself and play out the season to test the market as a restricted free agent next summer if Monday's deadline passes without a deal in place.

There's an obvious middle ground between $90 and $110 million, and considering both Buddy's desire to stay in Sacramento and his obvious value to the Kings foundation, we are optimistic that a deal will be reached before Monday's extension deadline. If the Kings don't want to risk their good team vibes, it would be best for both parties to sign an extension and establish Hield as a long-term foundational piece of the franchise.

Still, the Kings have and will continue to hold leverage here; if a deal isn't reached by Monday, Hield will enter next summer as a restricted free agent, and the Kings would have the rights to match any offer he receives. The clear risk for Sacramento would be another dynamic season from Buddy Buckets, which could increase his value past his current asking price.

PM SET TO TAKE BACK THE MUD!

BN Agent, X

United Nations tells Bahamas NOT to deport Haitians back to Haiti, But the PM says he isn't having it! As he will be deporting back illegal immigrants and also seeking to get back land that was once squatted on by illegal immigrants, aka the MUD and other landmasses. LET'S MAKE THE BAHAMAS GREAT AGAIN!

Government will NOT be swayed by U.N. demands and instead WILL do what's BEST for BAHAMIANS!! In the aftermath of Dorian, the government moved swiftly to prevent migrants from rebuilding in the ruins of the shantytowns and later announced a plan to compulsorily acquire the land.

Those residents, many who fled to New Providence, face an uncertain future.

Some claim to have work permits, but Prime Minister Dr. Hubert Minnis has said that even they are not safe.

"Well individuals have work permits but you must understand that that work permit may have been for a particular type of employment," he said. "That employment might no longer exist; therefore, that work permit is no longer valid and therefore one has to assess the situation."

We spoke to migrants from the Sand Banks shantytown, many of whom claimed to have work permits. One man said he was in The Bahamas for 10 months; another said he had been here for 30 years. Both said they have work permits.

While it is reasonable to tell the migrant who was here for 10 months to leave, how do you tell the one who has been here for 30 years?

The matter should be dealt with on a case-by-case basis.

Then there are those migrants with no status. "There are flights flying in and out of the Republic of Haiti," Immigration Minister Elsworth Johnson has said.

"Persons have made suggestions, but at the end of the day, we must do what is in the best interest of The Bahamas while still protecting the dignity of the human person. We have tried our best to do that.

"Ask anybody if they have seen any large or mass deportation. I don't know where they are getting these things from."

HUMANS ARE NOT READY FOR THE RADIATION

BN Agent, X

5G is the next generation of cell phone infrastructure, yet it is categorically different than its predecessors (4G/LTE, 3G, 2G, etc.). It is not a simple upgrade. It is a major increase – and change – in the type of wireless radiation to which we will all be exposed, without consent, whether we use this service or not. 5G builds on existing infrastructure and, in addition, uses extremely high (millimeter-wave) frequencies of 24 gigahertz (GHz) or more. These 5G signals don't travel far, so antennas will be installed approximately every 2-10 homes in residential neighborhoods. 5G will significantly increase our wireless RF radiation (radio frequency microwave) exposure on a 24/7 and 365 days a year basis. IT STARTS with AMERICA! Who wants to implement it first before the rest of the world.

The USA government's human exposure guidelines haven't been updated in more than 20 years, while radiation from cell phones, cordless phones, WiFi and wireless baby monitors has increased exponentially in that time. No Safety Studies In a February 2019 U.S. Senate hearing, senior telecom executives admitted they have not done any safety testing on 5G, nor do they plan to do any. Currently, there are over two dozen cities in the U.S. and countless cities abroad that have 5G, yet there is no scientific evidence to support any claim of safety for it. What related research does show is cause for alarm. Thousands of independent studies indicate adverse health impacts from wireless radiation. These range from cancer and sterility to DNA damage. The government's human exposure guidelines haven't been updated in more than 20 years, while radiation from cell phones, cordless phones, WiFi and wireless baby monitors has increased exponentially in that time. Planet Earth Blanketed in Radiation The 5G agenda is vast. It includes 200 billion transmitting objects, according to estimates, that will be part of the Internet of Things (IoT) by 2020, with one trillion transmitting objects a few years later. 5G is meant to usher in more robotics, artificial intelligence and autonomous vehicles, including 5G antennas installed inside cars – behind our heads and irradiating our brains – so we can talk to people in other vehicles and instruct our driverless cars on where to take us. 5G base stations and 5G devices will have multiple antennas in phased arrays that work together to emit focused, steerable, laser-like beams that track each other. Each 5G phone will function like a mini cell tower, containing dozens of tiny antennas working together to track and aim a narrowly focused beam to search and connect with the nearest cell antenna.

The FCC has adopted rules that permit those beams to be as much as 20 watts, ten times more powerful than levels allowed on current phones. Numerous independent studies on millimeter-wave radiation already show a range of biological effects, indicating that an increase in frequencies may worsen harmful effects. A l a r m i n g Evidence of Harm More than 10,000 peer-reviewed scientific studies conducted by independent researchers from around the world demonstrate the harmful biological effects of wireless radiation. Because of their developmental stages, children are much more susceptible. In addition, wireless radiation effects are cumulative, putting children at greater risk. Effects include: Detrimental effects on fetal and newborn development Detrimental effects on young children Brain tumors and other cancers DNA damage and altered gene expression Neurological effects and cognitive impairment Impaired sperm function and quality Learning and memory deficits Cardiovascular disease Altered metabolism And more The mechanisms of biological harm from wireless radiation were not well understood until Martin Pall, PhD, demonstrated how voltage-gated calcium channels are disrupted, resulting in excessive intracellular calcium ions affecting our cells. Numerous independent studies on millimeter-wave radiation already show a range of biological effects, indicating that an increase in frequencies may worsen harmful effects. 5G is being touted as the next industrial revolution, when, in fact, it amounts to surveillance capitalism, in which intimate details of our lives are tracked, recorded and sold to the highest bidder, irradiating us all the while. US Government Corruption The Telecommunications Act of 1996, section 704, gives the telecom industry free reign and prohibits opposition to wireless infrastructure based on environmental effects, which includes health effects. Thankfully, this prohibition is being challenged in court right now. The telecom industry is supposed to be regulated by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC); however, the Harvard Center for Ethics describes the FCC as a "captured agency" that is dominated by the industry it is purported to regulate. The multi-trillion dollar telecom industry wields massive lobbying power and formidable public influence through pervasive, propagandistic advertising and media presence promoting 5G. In the Information Age, data drives the economy. 5G is being touted as the next industrial revolution, when, in fact, it amounts to surveillance capitalism, in which intimate details of our lives are tracked, recorded and sold to the highest bidder, irradiating us all the while. UN STAFFER WARNS THAT 5G IS A 'WAR ON HUMANITY' Let's Irradiate the Sky, Too In addition to millions of new base stations on Earth, 5G includes an eventual 20,000+ satellites in low orbit, affecting the ionosphere. Players include Elon Musk's SpaceX, OneWeb and Amazon. At this time, 66 5G satellites have already been launched, with more on the way. The direct radiation from these satellites, combined with their contamination of our ionosphere, along with pollution of the global electrical circuit would likely be catastrophic to all life on Earth. 5G threatens to provoke serious, irreversible effects on humans and permanent damage to all of Earth's ecosystems. Immediate measures must be taken to protect life in all of its forms. One solution is SafeG, wired public networks that allow for wireless inside homes and businesses without forcing it on everyone.

WHERE DA' MONEY GONE?

BN Agent, X

Rumor has it that GoFundMe has reported HeadKnowles to the Financial Crimes Unit in Nassau. Gina has failed to issue a receipt for the Million Dollars or a budget for how it is being spent so the money has been frozen.

Therefore Gina is our bongie of the day, I mean how simple is it to say what it is that you have spent the money already on or about to spend money on in the future, seems like a simple process to us. But not so for Gina Knowles as she has been getting run down from every agency asking about how this million dollar is being spent or will be spent! Gina is taking it upon herself to remain silent to everyone regarding this money so now we have been told the money get FROZEN! YES LIKE THAT GIRL ON DISNEY! LET IT SNOW LET IT SNOW! THIS MONEY CAN'T GET TOUCH NO MORE LET IT SNOW LET IT SNOW ALL PEOPLE WANTED

WAS A REPORT! So there ya have it Head dropped from the company and now Gina cant touch the money no more, so can someone please ask her to show where the money was going now, maybe she might have an answer.

Oswald Poitier, bound over the peace!
The court ruled that he must remain outside of 1,000 feet from Mrs. Elizabeth Bannister or be remanded for 6 months and pay a $1000.00 fine.

He was also ordered to pay to the court before leaving, $500.00. The magistrate also ordered Poitier to refrain from having anything to publish or have published concerning Mrs. Bannister or be in breach of the order. Mrs. Bannister was told that if she wished to pursue it through the courts, there was a case for slander, defamation of character, libel and stalking.

JIM CLAIMS NOTHING IS BEING DONE FOR ABACO

BN Agent, V

Geez Jim...there you have it, your five minute of fame for your gross exaggeration and untruths concerning the restoration efforts in Abaco, Bahamas. Shame on you Jim.

While we believe some things could have been managed differently and the people set as the managers should have been different, while we are Narionlist and are no toe the line supporters we are not prepared to sit by and watch some "I need some attention joker" take cheap hits at us.

Who sent Jim and how much are they paying him? Does Tim represent some special interest group. The clean up efforts has begun and the Royal Bahamas Defense force has worked tirelessly assist to bringing restoration to Abaco

Perhaps the world need to hear it again the Mudd is no more and will longer be nor the Pigeon Peas. To do so would be an agreement and endorsement of substandard housing that arewe largely populated with illegals...sounds like a special interest group to me or maybe Tim is simply singing for his supper.

Whatever the hell it is lying Tom need to go somewhere and sit his lying self down and PM Minnis needs new advisors who can navigate skilfully through politically challenged waters.

PM Doc...we gat you on this one

U.N. SAYS STOP SENDING THE HAITIANS BACK TO HAITI

BN Agent, X

The Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR) is urging The Bahamas to end deportations to Haiti for now, amid concerns over the government's immigration policy and the treatment of undocumented Haitian migrants after Hurricane Dorian.

"We call on the authorities to halt any further deportations to Haiti at the moment," said the spokesperson for the OHCHR in a statement.

It said, "We are concerned about the deportation of 112 Haitian migrants from The Bahamas to Haiti last Thursday, including people from the Abaco islands, which were badly hit by the destruction caused by Hurricane Dorian in September this year.

"We call on the government to refrain from deporting individuals who lack documentation without the individual assessments and due process guarantees to which they are entitled under international law."

In recent weeks, the government has faced backlash after announcing its intention to enforce immigration laws and deport undocumented migrants, even those impacted by the hurricane.

In the immediate aftermath of the storm, the government announced that the repatriation of storm victims, who are undocumented migrants, was on hold.

The UN body expressed concern with the impact of the government's public reversal of its "immigration enforcement activities".

"Haitian migrants have often found themselves in positions of vulnerability in The Bahamas, as documented by UN human rights mechanisms," the statement read.

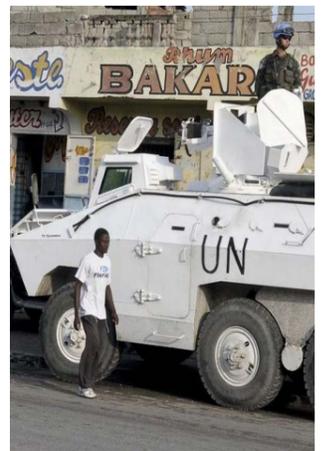

"Many of them lived in informal settlements that were destroyed by the hurricane, losing their documents, jobs and belongings."

The OHCHR added, "This has led to panic among Haitians affected by Hurricane Dorian, and reports are emerging of people leaving temporary shelters for fear of arrest, and of people failing to avail themselves of necessary humanitarian services or going into hiding.

"There have also been deeply worrying discriminatory public declarations against Haitians, as well as messages of xenophobia and intolerance in the media.

"We are concerned that such narratives may lead to further stigmatization of or violence against migrants and minorities."

500 NEW JOBS IS COMING FOR BAHA BAY

BN Agent, X

Prime Minister signs Baha Mar phase two deal and secures 500 new permanent jobs.

Government signs $300 million Baha Mar expansion deal.

Prime Minister Dr Hubert Minnis urged Bahamians to take advantage of job opportunities as the government signed a Heads of Agreement with Baha Mar resort for a $300 million expansion.

Minnis vowed the government will work to fill the 20 percent gap in the country's GDP due to Hurricane Dorian's catastrophic impact in Grand Bahama and Abaco, adding the resort's expansion will assist rebuild efforts on those islands. The Cable Beach resort pushed forward with its second phase of development, featuring water park, Baha Mar Bay, and extensive renovations to the Melia Nassau Beach resort as the country grapples with hurricane recovery.

The project is expected to create 500 permanent jobs and 1,000 indirect jobs during construction, with a timeline of 12 to 12 months.

WNBA finals passed on October 10th, with JJ putting up 25 points. The Suns didn't win the finals but Johnquel performance was amazing with 30 minutes of game play she was able to secure 9 rebounds (Could you say pure GLASS CLEANER) and put up 25 points on the board! Sounds like shes more of a (PAINT BEAST). Either way JJ is at her prime and overall topping the charts as one of the best Center's in the WNBA as it stands.
